Talent On Display

County Central Entertains With Varied Stage Show

By Peter Pickersgill
Variety Night at County Central High School last Friday night was designed to provide something for everyone and fulfilled its promise to an enthusiastic audience of over 300.

Organized by a special student committee of Mike Denbigh, Gerald Mueller, Chuck Brinton, Marjorie Larkins, Carol McNiven and Bernie Hummel under supervision of vice-principal D. R. Brown, the show was promoted by the school Booster Club with over 40 students presenting a wide variety of individual and group offerings. In addition the enjoyable sound of the school Glee Club was heard under direction of Mrs. Caroline Johnston and from the school Drama "20" class came a short play A Night In An Inn.

Featured on the program was Miss Nettie Ware whose recitations during the evening delighted the audience. The popularity of this talented elocutionist is well known in the district and Miss Ware is called upon to entertain at gatherings, large and small. Appreciation for the example she set for students was shown in a presentation of a corsage to her by Mike Denbigh, chairman of the student committee.

MC'd by Brian Smith whose deep voice and witty humour carried him through the usual dead microphones, lighting failures and lost copy, the first half of the 20-part program was highlighted by accordionist Dennis Burton of Champion who played LaCumparsita and Lady Of Spain and by the now historic Charleston as danced by Mary Plourd and Carolyn Dahl with accompanist Laree Clark, all of Carmangay.

The well-known singer Donald Hansen presented two show tunes and this was followed by a dose of country and western stylings by five Mossleigh devotees.

As described on a banner across the back of the stage most of the second half of the program was "Central-A-Go-Go". Most entertaining were Connie's Dancers, several couples who performed dances through the ages which ranged from the waltz, jive, jitterbug and up to the watusi, jerk, potato etc. etc. etc. that have made loners out of dance partners today.

A surprise performance was by Betty Dakin, new to County Central this term. Her exceptional soprano voice was much enjoyed in two numbers, I Feel Pretty and Gesu Bambino and it would seem certain she'll be a part of the school operetta being rehearsed for next spring.

Door prize of an album from the soundtrack of The Sound Of Music was won by Connie Nelson.

Most of the backstage work was done by the performers themselves and despite the length of the show a minimum of delay was found between sets. Producing a program such as this gave the students a brief look into the business world, good experience in organization and leadership and a chance to develop stage confidence before a large crowd. It calls for another show next year.

J. M. McKay New General Manager Of Hail Board

The appointment of J. M. McKay of Brant as general manager of the Alberta Hail Insurance Board was announced last week. He succeeds J. Glen Elder, retiring general manager who has served in that position for over 20 years.

J. M. McKay

Mr. McKay, well known farmer of the Brant district, has served as a councillor and school committee chairman of the County of Vulcan No. 2 since formation of the County in January 1951. He was born at Brant and was educated there, at Crescent Heights High School in Calgary and at the University of Alberta and taught school before taking up farming.

He served as executive member and president of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties, represented the rural municipal jurisdiction on the Co-terminous Boundaries Commission 1953-55, is a member of the provincial-municipal expenditure and revenue study committee and is chairman of the Alberta Crop Insurance Corporation.

Mr. McKay is married and has one son, Flying Officer Jim McKay, an instructor with the RCAF at Moose Jaw.

Traffic Tickets Not Excessive Oct. 30

At the instigation of the Chamber of Commerce, an investigation into charges that town police were overly zealous in handing out traffic violation tickets to visitors from out of town the weekend of October 30 was conducted at the regular town council meeting Monday night of this week.

On the particular day in question, a gymkhana "Show of Champions" was being held at the arena and a car auction sale had also attracted many people from out of town.

Records showed that on October 30 a total of eight traffic violation tickets were issued, of which five were to Vulcan residents and three to out-of-town residents. In addition, one summons for illegal possession of liquor was issued to an out-of-town resident and several "warning" tickets were also given to first-time traffic offenders.

The three traffic tickets given to out-of-town drivers were for the following offences: parked in and blocking an alley, a parked truck blocking traffic on a street and a car parked in and blocking exit from a private driveway. Of the five tickets to Vulcan residents,

Recent Guest At County Abattoir

Out at the County Abattoir Roger Middleton and Cal Rutburg have fired their English setters as watch dogs and replaced them with the fellow shown above in Roger's arms.

This is an Alaska King Crab and would measure up to three feet across in its live and moving state and apparently up in northern B.C. coastal waters these are not considered huge. When local citizens, spurge on such a delicacy the crab usually measures about six inches in size and may weigh a pound or so but this model weighs 11 pounds 12 oz. and is selling for $16. Three more are now on order for the festive season.

The crab was more of a speculative buy for Roger who was interested in seeing one up close however word gets around and this one will wind up under the Christmas tree as a most novel gift for an unsuspecting sea food connoisseur.

These King Crabs may be common as a bale of hay to folks along the coast but if you ever pull one out of Lake McGregor don't bring it to the local Fish and Game group cause they haven't got a trophy for it.

As a community service project, the Champion Lions Club has recently purchased a used school bus for the use of any club or organization of Champion and district which is in need of transportation for its members.

Difficulty in arranging transportation to other points has often been encountered in the past and the availability of this bus should eliminate this problem.

The bus in a 30-passenger unit and will be made available on a "first come, first served" basis.

The Lions Club plans to maintain and service the bus and organizations using it will be expected to supply a driver holding a Class A license and purchase the gas used on a trip. As of now, these are the only rules regarding the use of the bus, but additional regulations may be required in the future.

The Lions' committee in charge of the community bus is composed of Bob Williams, George Ellis and Martin Matlock and any group interested in using the bus may make arrangements by phoning Bob Williams, Champion.

Was Minister Here

Widely Known Former M.P., Rev. E. G. Hansell Passes

Member of Parliament for Macleod riding from 1935 to 1958 and one of the early supporters of the Social Credit movement, Rev. Ernest G. Hansell died in Calgary Friday, December 10, 1965, following a stroke. He was 70 years of age.

Mr. Hansell was minister of the Vulcan Church of Christ from the early 1930's. During the Second World War he was made minister emeritus but continued to make his home here and to preach occasionally both in Vulcan and in Calgary, where he at times substituted for Premier E. C. Manning on the Back to the Bible Hour. He took up residence in Calgary in 1958.

In 1959, a year after his defeat in the federal election, he turned to provincial politics and was elected to the legislature as member representing High River-Okotoks. In May 1963 his long political career came to an end when he failed to win renomination as the Social Credit candidate in High River-Okotoks.

Mr. Hansell was a former national president of the Social Credit party and in 1952 was a parliamentary advisor to the Canadian delegation at a United Nations meeting in Paris, France.

He was one of the main engineers of the 1952 upset that toppled the coalition government of B.C. and brought about a Social Credit administration.

Born in 1895 at Norwich, England, he came with his parents to Canada in 1904 and resided first at Reston, Manitoba. The family moved to Calgary in 1911. As a young man his first jobs included a stint as a CPR ticket agent in Calgary and as cartoonist for the old Calgary News-Telegram in 1917.

He married the former Alice Edwards of New York City, since deceased, in 1917. He and his wife travelled to Los Angeles to visit a friend who was studying in the Bible Institute there. He sat in on a few lectures and ended by taking the whole course and then a post-graduate course from the Southern School of Divinity in Texas.

He later served as a trustee of the Alberta Bible College for many years and received from the college an honorary doctor of Divinity degree.

He combined speaking engagements with blackboard cartooning. While still a student he was called to take over the Rose Hill Baptist Church in Los Angeles. Ordained in 1920, he went to British Columbia on evangelistic and Bible conference work.

REV. DR. E. G. HANSELL

Mr. Hansell was called to Westbourne Baptist Church in Calgary in 1922 and it was here that his connection with Social Credit and its founder, the late William Aberhart, began.

Mr. Aberhart and a number of others carried on Bible classes at the church during the evening. These eventually grew into the Prophetic Bible Institute in Calgary where Premier Manning preached regularly, at least up to 1953.

Mr. Hansell was also minister for the Baptist Church at Camrose and for the Hillhurst Baptist Church in Calgary before taking over the ministry of the Vulcan Church of Christ.

In 1931 he married his second wife, the former Mrs. Hilda Langille of Calgary.

Besides his wife, Mr. Hansell is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Bodie, Calgary, and Elizabeth Hansell, Haney, B.C.; one son, William, Beiseker; two stepsons, Howard Langille, Vegreville, and Robert Langille, Coleman; one brother, H. Hansell, Vancouver; 10 grandchildren.

A son, Harry Hansell, was killed over Germany while serving with the RCAF in the Second World War.

Funeral services, attended by many Vulcan friends, were held at Cambrian Heights Church of Christ, Calgary, on Monday, December 13. Officiating were Rev. Meridith Bergman, Rev. Dr. R. J. Westaway and Rev. R. E. Gonyea. Burial followed in Queen's Park.

Services Held For Frank Armev

An oldtimer of the Arrowwood district, Frank Armev, 1627-4 St. NW Calgary, passed away December 3, 1965, at the age of 92 years. Later, in 1917, he moved to Arrowwood where he farmed until moving to Calgary in 1944.

He served on the Arrowwood Consolidated School Board about 15 years, during which time the Arrowwood School was built. While in office he held the positions of chairman and secretary, for several years.

Mr. Armev is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Archie (Pearl) Harrison, Banff, Mrs. George (Lola) Roberts, Arrowwood; a son, Chester, Arrowwood; 16 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren, and a brother, Edward, Calgary. He was predeceased by his wife, Nellie, in 1949, two daughters, Irma May 1944, and Theta, 1956; and a son, Carol, 1913.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Glen Harmon, December 6, 3:30 p.m. at the Chapel on the Hill with interment at Queen's Park Cemetery. Pallbearers were Walter Steiner, Russel Culp, Frank Burger, Don Beagle, Harold Williams, and Hurley Williams.

REPORT FROM EDMONTON

by J. WALLY STRANG

Perhaps the biggest story around the capital city this week was the release by the C.P.R. that they were planning a 230 acre industrial park for Edmonton's south side. Known as Marathon Realty, the developers are going all out to make the site one of the most attractive in Canada. For the record, it's just south of Labatt's on the Calgary Trail and development is expected to get underway in the very near future.

UNHAPPY ALBERTANS

There are a large number of very unhappy Alberta firms complaining lately about the treatment they are receiving from the American controlled Bechtel Engineering firm. Bechtel as most people know, has the blessings of the government and is conducting the engineering work on the extraction and mining plant for the Athabasca Tar Sands.

When Bechtel first entered the scene they indicated and it was the government's understanding, that they would use Canadian help. They obtained a list of local professional engineers . . . which the companies volunteered thinking they were going to get some work. But the San Francisco firm turned tables and is now hiring the people at outlandish wages . . . thus . . . by the tactics they are using . . . they are doing a good job of putting some local engineering firms out of business — but they probably don't care because once finished, they will likely move on . . .

the final meeting of 1965. The January meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Giles with each member bringing ideas for the 1966 schedule.

No Boners There

(By C. J. Harris)

We often read that today's high school students pull some terrible boners when replying to questionnaires about politics or public affairs. It's amusing if some youngster hazards a guess that a bicameral legislature has something to do with a team of camels or that female suffrage is when any mother has more than five kids, but it is likely that the boners we hear about are the exception rather than the rule. At least, in their knowledge and opinions about business, a survey conducted among graduating high school students by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce indicates, young people rate quite well informed.

For example, on the subject of industrial growth, the students were asked to indicate which of the following rated most important: saving money and investing it; more government control of industry; distributing more of our income to the working man; greater productivity. The answers: 39 said that saving money and investing it contributes most of industrial growth; 33 per cent said that productivity contributes most; 17 per cent said that distributing more of our income to the working man is the most important; only about nine per cent said that more government control is the most important factor.

The majority of students said they believed that most secure jobs are found in companies that make a steady profit; 75 per cent said that business cannot function without the profit incentive. On the question of government control of business, 53 per cent said we now have "just the right amount" or, if anything, "too much" government control of business. Finally, 94 per cent of the students offered the opinion that some economics should be taught in high schools.

Actually, even without such classroom instruction, they seem soundly informed.

WHAT DO YOU WANT FOR CHRISTMAS?

This question, "What do you want for Christmas?" is one that is familiar to all of us. Parents and friends ask children what they want. Ruthie says, "A doll" and Tommy may say, "A train." We, as adults, also are asked this question. We give a similar answer. This is all a part of the enjoyment of the season.

When we think of it, what do we really want and yet never mention? I think that Dr. Norman Vincent Peale has aptly provided the answer for us. Do we not want, as he says, "The intangible things like happiness and health, peace of heart and a joyous outlook on life; things like a zest for living each day as it comes with optimism and expectancy; like a strong faith in God which enables us to approach life with confidence and serenity. These gifts . . . and they are gifts . . . are the greatest treasures we can receive.

"What do you want for Christmas" is a question that we will be faced with again in the future. Let us think before we speak. Think of the many real gifts we do have in our possession. We have been blessed time and time again by the hand of Almighty God.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor, The Advocate:

I drove into Vulcan on Saturday night, Dec. 4, to attend the Lions turkey shoot, bingo and what have you at the Armouries. They had lots going on all over the place but the prices were outrageous. The fellows collecting money had better start school again as they don't know what two and two is. When they run something in the paper they should state single, double or triple. As far as shooting for turkeys is concerned they didn't state the price in the paper. So when you get there be sure to have $10 admission money with you as that is most likely what it will cost you.

In my books and as far as others I heard at the show it was a disgrace to the community. A group of people like the Lions Club Vulcan Branch have a lot to learn when they are dealing with the general public. I for one, and my friends, will never attend such a show again.

RUMEN OVERLOAD

Dr. F. E. Graesser, Histopathologist with the Alberta Veterinary Services Branch, strongly advises cattlemen to take extra precautions at this time of year against rumen overload in their cattle.

He points out that overloading and distention of the stomach, particularly the rumen, occurs quite frequently in animals coming off summer pasture and going into feedlots. This condition is also known as grain overload or gastric impaction.

Excessive amounts of whole grain or hay, sudden changes of feed, moldy or frozen feed, lack of water and insufficient exercise are all contributory factors. Another common cause is animals breaking into granaries or feed bins and gorging themselves on chop or grain. Feedlot animals which are put on to full feed too quickly are often casualties.

According to Dr. Graesser, the symptoms of rumen overload include dullness, unwillingness to eat, diarrhea and staggering. In late stages, the animal goes down, becomes prostrate and dies.

The use of rumen stimulants and laxatives are recommended when the condition is detected early. More drastic measures are required, says Dr. Graesser, in treating advance cases. At this time it is frequently too late to save the animal.

Dr. Graesser stresses that prompt action is essential at the earliest indication of the condition. Veterinary assistance should be obtained immediately.

According to Dr. Graesser, most cases of rumen overload are the result of accident, carelessness or ignorance on the part of the operator. Awareness of what is involved and a reasonably good standard of management will go a long way towards preventing the condition.

ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

BULLETIN:

THORSBY BOY HONORED

FOR SAVING COUSIN

It was November 21, 1964 when a near-fatal incident occurred near the home of thirteen-year old Tim Alenius. His sister Linda and cousin Pat Wickstrom were skating. In his eagerness, Pat skated out too far. Suddenly, the ice cracked and Pat fell into the icy water of Pigeon Lake.

He could not climb out. Linda skated furiously for her home to bring help, but her father's repeated efforts to reach Pat were prevented because the ice kept cracking.

Then young Tim came into view. Quickly sizing up the situation, he crawled out to the exhausted Pat and caught him by the hand.

He inched even closer, grasped the collar of Pat's jacket, and slowly pulled him onto solid ice. Then Mr. Alenius took over with towels, blankets and hot water.

We congratulate Tim. Our thanks to Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Howard Bowes, Editor of the Leduc Representative and to Tim's nominator, William Grasiuk of Thorsby.

THE HOMEMAKER

Mrs. Pat Yorgason, District Home Economist
Clareholm, Alta. Phone 235-3242

To a greater or lesser degree every Canadian owes his standard of living to the use of credit.

No-one pays cash for everything. Even people who pride themselves in paying the doctor or dentist "spot cash", still pay for their utilities after the power or gas is used.

The "Buy Now Pay Later" trend is a mighty economic force. Everything from gasoline to housing is regularly bought "On Time".

Credit has two forms. "Production" credit is used to expand a business and therefore expected to pay for itself.

"Consumption" Credit is used to buy things like clothing and T.V. sets. Unfortunately, nobody gets paid to use either.

People who study consumer economics say we can afford 12% of our take home pay for consumer credit purchases. Thus a family which has $300 a month after deductions can afford $36 a month in credit payments, exclusive of housing.

Most people use credit wisely. Credit Bureaus say 8 out of 10 meet their obligations. They also say that teenagers are a good risk (Probably because they don't have to pay the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker as well).

However, there is no such thing as an "Easy Payment Plan". Buying for cash is always cheapest.

When we must use credit we should shop for dollars the way we shop for anything else. Find out what the interest rate is, in percentage per year. It will vary from 6% to 30%!

Make the largest possible down payment.

Take the shortest possible time to pay the thing out.

Read every single word of every document you sign. Your signature makes you legally responsible, whether you understood the terms or not.

An accountant for a large motor car company said recently that the majority of men who bought cars on time just signed a blank form and let the dealer fill in the details!

Surely even women can be sharper than that.

Credit Bureaus maintain files which indicate the credit rating of each individual. No-one influences this rating but oneself. We each make our own record as a credit risk. The Bureau only keeps track of how we manage our credit affairs.

Laing-Setters Wedding Held At Arrowwood

Bouquets of large white mums and red carnations formed the floral decor for a candlelight ceremony in the Church of the Brethren, Arrowwood, on October 16, when Maureen Louise Setters and Donald Robert Laing exchanged vows.

Rev. Mervyn Lutes performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Setters of Arrowwood, and the son of Mrs. Nella Laing of Calgary, and the late Douglas Laing of Mossleigh. Mrs. Ella Hayes was organist, and Kenneth and Douglas Beagle acted as candlelighters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a traditional floor length gown, fashioned in white peau de soie satin, featuring a bateau neckline and lily point sleeves, the only ornaments being appliqued roses on the neckline and skirt. A bouffant train fell gracefully from the back waist. Her chapel length veil was held in place by a cluster of white peau de soie roses, and her bouquet was of red roses, pink carnations, lily of the valley and white stephanotis.

Maid of honor, Miss Rhonda Murdoch, and bridesmaid, Miss

Beth Laing, sister of the groom, attended the bride, wearing identical floor length sheath gowns of emerald blue peau de soie, featuring three quarter length sleeves, with a bateau neckline, and wore a drop pearl necklace. Misses Brenda Williams and Brenda Walsh were junior bridesmaids and wore identical gowns of floor length emerald blue peau de soie, with three quarter length sleeves and an inverted front pleat at the waistline. Their necklaces featured drop pendants with a cross in aurora borealis crystal. All four attendants carried bouquets of white and yellow carnations. During the ceremony, Miss Beth Laing rendered two solos, "Wedding Prayer" and "Oh Promise Me".

Attending the groom were Fred Bexte and Leonard Robinson, while duties of ushering were shared by Murray Blair and Syd Setters, the bride's brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Setters wore a two piece burgundy suit, with black patent accessories, and wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Laing, the groom's mother, chose a turquoise suit with black accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

A wedding reception followed in the Community Hall, the dining room being decorated in white and emerald blue. The head table held the wedding party, and was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, surrounded by white tulle and pink roses. Misses Karen and Cheryl Burris were in charge of the guest book, and Hank Walsh was Master of Ceremonies. The toast to the bride was given by Hurley Williams, the bride's uncle. Best man, Fred Bexte toasted the bridesmaids and was responded to by Miss Laing. During the reception the junior bridesmaids sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Hurley Williams on the piano.

Out of town guests were from Prince Albert, Vancouver, Red Deer, Trochu, Torrington, Edmonton and Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Laing are making their home in Calgary.

LOMOND

Darrell Maronda and Walter Domolewski each came home with a four-point deer last weekend. It seems as though every year they go right up to the last day of the season, before they get lucky.

The first hockey game of the season saw the Lomond Juvenile Eagles hosting the Brooks team at the Lomond Community Arena on Sunday. Brooks won with a score of 11-3. However Lomond did very well having had no practice whatever and many not having skated before this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chambers returned home Tuesday after visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chambers and son of Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sande were visitors in Lethbridge on Monday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Liebrich and family were visitors in Vulcan on Saturday of last week.

Larry Helland of Vulcan spent the past weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Helland and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbie West and family were visitors in Vulcan on Saturday of last week.

Keith Goldthorpe of Lethbridge was a weekend visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hirst Goldthorpe.
